EDENCLINIC
TRAINING ACADEMY

Diagnosis and Management of Testosterone Deficiency

A two day course for healthcare professionals who intend to diagnose and manage testosterone deficiency in men in their own practice.

Dates	Thursday 19th and Friday 20th November 2026, two days
Times	09:00 to 17:00 both days. Lunch is provided at the venue on both days.
Venue	1 Wimpole Street, London W1G 0AE.
Places	Ten per cohort, open to healthcare professionals
Fee	Course fee: £1,799.
Booking	Booked and paid online, confirmed immediately. Bookings close on Tuesday 17th November 2026.
Taught by	Dr Angela Servis leads both days, teaching with Shazlee Ahsan and Majad Mahroof, pharmacist prescribers at Courier Pharmacy.

Doctor led

Taught by clinicians who run a testosterone replacement service themselves.

Evidence based

Current British and international guidance, and the evidence behind it.

Ten places

Small enough that the practical sessions and case work stay conversational.

16 CPD hours
CPD UK accredited
Reference 22054

Eden Clinic Training Academy
edenclinictrainingacademy.co.uk
operations@edenclinic.co.uk
0333 335 6414

THE COURSE

What you will be able to do afterwards

The course prepares you to establish and run a testosterone replacement therapy service. It is taught by clinicians who run one. Teaching is case based, and you receive printed and digital materials during the course.

- Understand the anatomy and physiology of male hypogonadism
- Investigate, interpret blood tests and make a confident diagnosis
- Compare treatment options and administration routes
- Work through real cases in discussion with the faculty
- Set up a service with sound governance and a workable business model

Curriculum

Clinical foundations

- Overview of male hypogonadism: anatomy, physiology, signs and symptoms
- Investigation pathways and red flags
- Pathophysiology of testosterone deficiency
- The evidence base for treatment protocols
- Treatment protocols and management of complications
- Blood test analysis

Practice and governance

- British and international guidance
- Clinic setup and governance
- Harm reduction for people using anabolic steroids

Before and after the course

- Before you arrive: a reading list and a short multiple-choice check in the portal
- After the course: a final paper in the portal, which earns the CPD UK certificate

What is included

- Printed and digital training materials, provided during the course
- CPD UK accredited certification, 16 CPD hours, reference 22054

Who it is for

Doctors, nurses, pharmacists, advanced practitioners and other clinicians who intend to see these patients themselves. Enrolment is open to healthcare professionals, and to those training to become one. We ask for your profession when you book.

FACULTY

Who teaches the course

AS

Dr Angela Servis

Founder and Clinical Lead

BMBS, MRCGP, PgDip Aes, PgDip Endo

Dr Servis is a GMC registered general practitioner with a Diploma in Endocrinology, and the founder of Eden Clinic. She joined the British Army in 2005 and qualified in medicine in 2008, training while she served. Her military career began in Germany with the Royal Engineers and ended with 3 Commando Brigade, and she left in 2022 after sixteen years in uniform. She has practised medicine for eighteen years, and has worked in men's health since 2020, first with another clinic and now in her own. She leads both days of the course.

CLINICAL INTERESTS

Men's health. Sexual medicine. Addiction medicine. Weight management.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

British Society for Sexual Medicine. European Society for Sexual Medicine. International Society for Sexual Medicine. Androgen Society.

Our goal is simple. To teach testosterone replacement therapy the way it is practised, by clinicians who deliver it in clinic every week, using protocols grounded in the evidence.

EDEN CLINIC TRAINING ACADEMY

About the Academy

Eden Clinic is a doctor led private clinic in Plymouth, offering men's health, private GP care, blood testing and doctor led aesthetic medicine. Its medical services are registered with the Care Quality Commission. Eden Clinic Training Academy is the clinic's training arm, and this course is CPD UK accredited under reference 22054.

Because the faculty run a testosterone replacement service every week, the teaching is built around what actually happens in clinic. The investigations that change a decision. The results that look abnormal and are not. The governance a new service needs in place before it sees a first patient.

PRACTICAL DETAIL

Dates, venue and fees

Dates	Thursday 19th and Friday 20th November 2026, two days
Times	09:00 to 17:00 both days. Lunch is provided at the venue on both days.
Venue	1 Wimpole Street, London W1G 0AE.
Travel	The nearest Underground stations are Oxford Circus and Bond Street, both a short walk away.
Places	Ten per cohort, open to healthcare professionals
Booking	Booked and paid online, confirmed immediately. Bookings close on Tuesday 17th November 2026.
Accreditation	16 CPD hours, CPD UK accredited, reference 22054
Faculty	Dr Angela Servis leads both days, teaching with Shazlee Ahsan and Majad Mahroof, pharmacist prescribers at Courier Pharmacy.

Course fee

COURSE FEE

£1,799

Applies to every booking. No VAT is added.

Prices are in pounds sterling. Payment in three interest free instalments is available with Klarna.

Clinical support after the course

Delegates can book paid consultations with the clinical team to discuss real cases. This is a separate service and is not included in the course fee. The rate is £60 per 30 minutes. Consultations are arranged through the clinic; write to operations@edenclinic.co.uk once you have completed the course.

How to book

Places are booked and paid for online at edenclinictrainingacademy.co.uk, or by phone on 0333 335 6414. You will be asked for your profession. Confirmation is immediate, and joining instructions follow by email. Bookings close on Tuesday 17th November 2026, so the venue can be given final numbers.